THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 13, 1902

Both Were Shocked. Little Elsie was a faithful attendant at Sunday school and had listened earnestly when plans for a coming Christian Endeavor convention were dis-cussed, her interest increasing to enthusiasm over the mysterious affair when she learned that her auntle was to attend as a delegate.

Coming into the library one day, auntie saw the little maid busily engaged in writing a letter to a cousin with whom she kept up a juvenile correspondence. She scrawled industri-ously for a moment; then stopped. ously for a moment; then stopped.

There was a puzzled expression on her fat, ink stained face as she dangled her short legs and wriggled uncomfortably on her high perch.
"Auntie," she said, "how do you spell thereit."

"Oh, Elsie," said her auntle, "I am shocked! Why are you using such a word as that in your letter? Nice little girls never say such things."
It was Elsie's turn to be shocked.

"Why, auntie," she cried, "I'm only telling her about the Christian and devil convention!" - Harper's Maga-

Editor's Troubles In Russin.

A correspondent tells the following story of methods of censorship in Russia: I was at an evening party of the local press censor in a south Russian town. About midnight I had strolled from the music room into a cardroom and was watching a game of cards, one of the players being our host, the censor, when the hostess approached her husband and said: "I wish, my dear, you would step behind. There are three poor wretches there who have been waiting for you a couple of hours. I did not wish to disturb you "They must wait a little longer," replied the censor. "I must finish my rubber." Twenty minutes later our host absented himself for a quarter of an hour. Meeting his wife next day, I asked her who were the "three poor wretches" referred to. "Editors of the three local journals," she replied. They had waited two and a half hours in the censor's back kitchen They had waited two and a with their manuscript and proof sheets for that morning's issue, without which they could not go to press.-Pearson's.

A certain lady of title recovered from a rather severe illness. An adept with the brush and a regular exhibitor of water colors in connection with the local art gallery, it was supposed she had overworked herself.

When the doctor was called in, an old nurse who had been in the family many years bored the medical man with her opinions as to the cause of the attack.
"It's them long hours an' hard work of the palatin' what's done it," she remarked directly she saw him. The doctor was preoccupied and scarcely heard the remark.

"Has her ladyship exhibited any traces of hysteria?" he suddenly demanded, turning to the talkative nurse.

"Oh, no, sir," was the unexpected reply. "They was water colors, all on 'em—real beauties too."—Milwaukee

A masterplece of censorship was once performed by the Turkish censor, Nischan Effendi, on the occasion of the production of Shakespeare's "Othello" at Constantinople. He "corrected" the drama so thoroughly as to leave hardly a trace of the original. Among other words, be expunged "Cyprus," giving ingenious reasons for this correction. "Cyprus," he said, "is a Turkish It would be politically unwise to send Othello to Cyprus, because the territorial integrity of Turkey is guaranteed by treaties. Why not put, ir stead of Cyprus, some Greek island, such as Corfu?" And thus it came to pass that from respect to the treaty of Paris Othello had to go to Corfu.

No Breath to Waste.

"There is something about the at-mosphere in the far north that makes men very quiet," said a man from up in the frozen region the other day "The habit is acquired, I suppose, in tramping, when the altitude makes it necessary to use all your breath for breathing and leaves you none for talking. The result is that the men talk very little. They become almost ss and will sit about at night, each thinking his own thoughts and allowing his fellows to do the same."

In Europe and the new world the most inveterate gamblers are the Spaniards and their descendants. Among African tribes the Haussas run the Chinese very close, and there are some Kanaka tribes in the south seas who push the hazard of gambling beyond the grave and stake their very bones on a last throw of the cowrle shells, which they use as dice.

A Call Down.
"Pa, sin't you a director of the school "Yes, I am. What of it?"

"Well, teacher called me down today, and she was awfully impolite

"Were you on the schoolhouse premises when she called you down?"

"Yes; I was on the roof."-Pittsburg

To the Public.

Allow me to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remendy, I can recommend it with the utmost confidence. It has done good work for me and will do the same for others. I had a very severe cough and cold and feared I would get pneumonia, but after taking the second dose of this medicine I felt better, three bottles of it cured my cold and the pains in my chest disappeared entirely. I am most respectfully yours for health, RALPH S. MEYERS, 64—Thirty-seventh street, Wheeling, W. Va. For sale by Richard Gibson druggist.

Slow Starvation

Kodol is the sensible remedy. By digesting what you eat it strengthens the body and at the same time rests the stomach. This rest soon restores perfect health. Cathartics and stimulants only reach the symptoms. Kodol cures. It is Nature's tonic.

Five years are a disease the doctors called dyspepsia trok such a hold on me that I could scarcely go. I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines, but nothing helped me. As a frowning man grasps at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once, and after a few bottles am sound and well.
